Productive, Repeatable, and Reliable CRM Application Development Results

The Adxstudio ALM Toolkit is an essential suite of tools that help automate change management for Microsoft Dynamics® CRM development projects using a source control system such as Team Foundation Server.

It supports large and small CRM team development activity using agile methodologies to manage change, achieve developer isolation and deploy CRM solutions across development, test, and production environments.

Configurable Control Automation

The Adxstudio ALM Toolkit package includes configurable PowerShell scripts & cmdlets along with several supporting tools for solution file, data, and deployment management.

Use the ALM Toolkit to minimize the costs associated with CRM application change management, speed development sprints, improve test and validation outcomes, reduce errors, and improve application quality with repeatable, reliable results.
